'Advantage of Sinking' is quintessential Sandell — a lifelong sailor finding unexpected humor and insight in the most feared outcome on the water. The title subverts expectation entirely, suggesting that even descent, even loss, carries within it some hidden opportunity or revelation. It speaks to an artist who consistently looked beneath the surface of things, literally and figuratively, to find meaning where others might see only danger. Edition 32 of just 36, among the final impressions of this run, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. (Print 32/36) (38" x 58")

'Another Blueprint' resonates deeply within Sandell's practice — a blueprint being at its core a precise technical document, a plan for bringing something into existence, which mirrors his own journal-driven approach to artmaking where each piece functions as a record or schematic of a moment, an idea, or a perception. The word 'another' adds a wink of self-awareness, suggesting an artist fully conscious of his own prolific documenting impulse and amused by it. With no edition number, this is a completely singular and unrepeatable work, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. (Unique Work 1/1) (39" x 58")

'Pail and Shovel' strips the beach back to its most innocent and universal expression — the simple tools of childhood that transform sand and sea into endless possibility. For Sandell, a lifelong coastal resident for whom the beach was simultaneously workspace, playground, and source of endless artistic inspiration, the title carries a quiet tenderness, a nod to the elemental joy of the shoreline that never really leaves us. 'Shark Bait' crackles with the dark humor and raw energy of someone who has spent a lifetime on the water — fully aware of what lurks beneath the surface and unafraid to confront it with a wink. It is a side of Sandell that balances his more meditative coastal works, reminding us that the ocean is as dangerous as it is beautiful. Edition 36 of just 39, one of the final impressions from this run, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. (Print 36/39) (25" x 68")

'Beach Architect' conjures the idea of the shoreline as a living, constantly self-designing structure — where wind, tide, and wave act as perpetual builders, endlessly reshaping the landscape with a logic all their own. For Sandell, a lifelong coastal resident and observer who approached the natural world with the eye of both artist and documentarian, the beach was never static but always under construction. The title also nods to Sandell's own architectural approach to layering and composing his mixed media works. Edition 34 of just 36, among the final and rarest impressions of this run, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. 3119		Lot 3119: "Darkness and Silence" by Scott Sandell (see extended description) A profound and atmospheric limited edition work by acclaimed American abstract expressionist Scott Sandell, whose art is held in the permanent collections of the Walker Art Center, Brooklyn Museum, Chrysler Museum, and Harvard University. 'Darkness and Silence' takes Sandell into his most contemplative and elemental territory — stripping the coastal world he knew so intimately back to its most primal nocturnal state, where the familiar landmarks of shore, wave, and horizon dissolve into something vast and unknowable. For a sailor who understood the water at night as an entirely different and demanding environment, these are not abstract concepts but lived realities. The title carries a stillness and gravity that feels deeply intentional. Edition 2 of just 19, among the earliest and most coveted impressions of this small run, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. Ditch Plains — the legendary surf break on the eastern shore of Montauk, long beloved by surfers, fishermen, and artists alike — is one of the most iconic stretches of coastline on Long Island's East End. For Sandell, a lifelong coastal resident who drew endless inspiration from the specific textures and moods of this landscape, Ditch Plains represents the ocean at its most raw and unfiltered, where the open Atlantic arrives unimpeded and fully formed. Edition 4 of 40, among the very earliest and most prized impressions of this run, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. 'Good Ground' is the original Native American name for Hampton Bays on Long Island's East End — a deeply local reference that grounds this work in the specific geography Sandell called home for over four decades. The addition of 'Blue' suggests a work of particular atmospheric depth, evoking the singular quality of light and water that defines the East End landscape and has drawn artists to its shores for generations. Edition 2 of just 20, among the earliest and most prized impressions of this small run, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. A witty and intellectually charged one-of-a-kind original by celebrated American abstract expressionist Scott Sandell, whose pieces reside in the permanent collections of the Walker Art Center, Brooklyn Museum, Chrysler Museum, and Harvard University. 'Complex but Optimal' feels like Sandell's quiet manifesto — a nod to the intricate, multilayered process behind every work he created, where oil, acrylic, photography, intaglio, woodblock, and handmade paper are woven together with the precision of an engineer and the soul of a poet. The title suggests an artist entirely at peace with the demands of his own practice, embracing complexity not as obstacle but as the very condition that produces the best possible result. With no edition number, this is a completely singular and unrepeatable work, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. (Unique Work 1/1) (43" x 73") (slight damage on back)
- 3144  Lot 3144: "Vitamin Sea" by Scott Sandell (see extended description)
A joyful and luminous limited edition work by acclaimed American abstract expressionist Scott Sandell, whose art is held in the permanent collections of the Walker Art Center, Brooklyn Museum, Chrysler Museum, and Harvard University. 'Vitamin Sea' is Sandell at his most playfully affectionate toward the ocean that defined his life and work — the wordplay on 'vitamin C' capturing in a single phrase the restorative, essential, almost medicinal power the sea held for him as artist, sailor, and coastal resident of Sag Harbor for over four decades. It is a title that smiles while meaning every word. Edition 25 of 30, among the final impressions of this run, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. (Print 25/30) (38" x 52")
- 3145  Lot 3145: "Water At 12,000 Feet" by Scott Sandell (see extended description)
A striking limited edition work by celebrated American abstract expressionist Scott Sandell, whose pieces reside in the permanent collections of the Walker Art Center, Brooklyn Museum, Chrysler Museum, and Harvard University. 'Water at 12,000 Feet' speaks to Sandell's fascination with water in all its forms and contexts — not merely the ocean at sea level but water as a universal force, existing at altitude, in atmosphere, and throughout the natural world. A departure from his familiar coastal imagery, the title suggests both adventure and the sweeping grandeur of the natural landscape. Edition 7 of 37, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. (Print 7/37) (25" x 59")
- 3146  Lot 3146: "Not A Good Swimmer" by Scott Sandell (see extended description)
A singular original work by acclaimed American abstract expressionist Scott Sandell, whose art is held in the permanent collections of the Walker Art Center, Brooklyn Museum, Chrysler Museum, and Harvard University. The title carries a wry nod to Sandell's lifelong relationship with the sea — an avid sailor and coastal artist based in Sag Harbor, New York, the ocean permeates his work both literally and conceptually. With no edition number, this is a completely unique piece, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade paper, where natural fibers and organic texture become part of the composition itself. (Unique Work 1/1) (26" x 48") (small indents)
- 3147  Lot 3147: "Water At 12,000 Feet" by Scott Sandell (see extended description)

- 3148  Lot 3148: "Amagansett in Water" by Scott Sandell (see extended description)
An evocative limited edition work by acclaimed American abstract expressionist Scott Sandell, whose art resides in the permanent collections of the Walker Art Center, Brooklyn Museum, Chrysler Museum, and Harvard University. Amagansett — the quiet, windswept hamlet on Long Island's East End just miles from Sandell's longtime home in Sag Harbor — takes on an entirely different character in winter, when the summer crowds vanish and the landscape strips itself back to its raw, elemental essentials of sky, sea, and sand. It is precisely this austere, contemplative version of the coast that feels most native to Sandell's artistic sensibility. Edition 13 of just 17, among the final impressions of a very small run, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. (Print 13/17) (23" x 65")
- 3149  Lot 3149: "Slightly Sunken Memory" by Scott Sandell (see extended description)
A poetic and deeply evocative limited edition work by acclaimed American abstract expressionist Scott Sandell, whose art is held in the permanent collections of the Walker Art Center, Brooklyn Museum, Chrysler Museum, and Harvard University. 'Slightly Sunken Memory' is one of Sandell's most quietly powerful titles — speaking directly to his documentary philosophy in which each work functions as a photograph that later sparks a memory, imperfectly preserved, partially submerged beneath the surface of time like a vessel slowly settling on the ocean floor. The word 'slightly' is characteristic of Sandell's understated wit, acknowledging the inevitable drift between experience and recollection with a sailor's matter-of-fact acceptance. Edition 6 of just 21, rendered in his signature layered mixed media style on handmade Japanese Kozo paper. (Print 6/21) (45" x 65")
